A TERRIBLE ABUSE.

Health Officer Townshend has been called upon by Leadingham & Co., livery table men, to suppress an abuse which they say has the effect of spreading con-tagious diseases. They allege in their com-munication that when backs are hired for runerals they are very frequently used in place of hearses at the funerals of children—the coffins being put inside of the back.

It is also charged that cases of measles, pneumonia and other contageous diseases are carried to the cemeteries in this way, thus contaminating the interior of the car-risgs and endangering the lives of the next occupants. The Health Office officials say that the practice is not earried on to the extent claimed, but it should not exist at alk and steps will be taken to break it up

THE FISHING SEASON.

Unfavorable Prospects.

The impression among a large number of the fishermen is that the fishing season in the Potomac this year will prove a failure. Those who have set out trap-nots are very much discouraged so far with the result. Cantain Wm. Stewart says that as soon as Captain Wm. Stewart says that as soon as they can get out their seines and make sev-eral hauls he can then give a fair idea of what the season will prove. From the present indications he thinks the southern lisheries prospects for the Potomac look unfavorable. The solue-hauling sasson commences on the 1st of April and will last until June 2, when the prohibitory law goes into operation.

Edwin C. Fowler to Act as First Assistant Postmaster-General.

Malcolm Hay, First Assistant Postmaster-General, qualified yesterday, preparatory to his entrance upon the discharge of his public duties, but desiring to visit the South for the improvement of his health. Mr. Edwin C. Fowler was designated by Postmaster-General Vilas to act in his place. Mr. Fowler ontered the service of the Postoffice Department sixteen years ago at a salary of $1.300, was at different times promoted, and finally by selection and request of companion employes was chosen principal clerk of the Appointment Division. At various periods he has acted as chiefclerk of the First Assistant when the veteran Mr. Marr was absont or incapacitated by illness. His designation at present to the indefinite occupancy of the First Assistant's position is an honor at once marked and merited.

ASSISTANT DISTRICT ATTORNEYS.

Some of them Will Go. The Attorney-General bas got rid of the services of three of the seven special agents of the Department of Justice. At no late day be will turn his attention to the awistants to United States district attorneys. It is very likely that a number of them will go. In the more important offices of district attorneys there are employed a number of assistants. In some cases that number is too large for the work performed.

In some of the work performed.

In some of the least important district attorneys' offices assistants are employed for whom there is absolutely no need, as the work could be done castly by the attorney himself without any assistance. Probably one of the first offices to be overhauled will be that of the United States District Attorney in Philadelphia.

District Attorney in Philadelphia.

There are more assistants there than there ought to be and they are believed to be paid too much money. When Mr. Brewster took the office of Attorney-General he incressed the salaries of all of the assistant United States attorneys in of the assistant United States attorneys in Philadelphia fifty per cent. He also added one to the list of those assistants. This officer has, it is said, never done any work at all for the Government. His duties seem to have consisted in looking after Mr. Brewster's private law office and seeing that all things went well thore. It would be a safe prediction to say that he will go.

THE NEWSBOYS.

Their Entertalument Last Night. The newshoys were entertained at Willard Hall last night. Two hig policemen were on hand. They did not have as much fun as the boys had. In fact, the boys had fun with them. There were between three and four hundred boys on hand, and the noise-evolving capacity of each was fully up to the standard. Boys of all sges between 7 and 16 were there, and boys of all shades between white and chony were in the crowd.

In the gallery of the hall were many ladies and gentlemen, who looked down upon what was going on. The boys were seated upon planks, which had, by being placed across chairs, been made into impremptu benches. There was not any too much room. This gave rise to a good deal of "scrouging." While the guests enjoyed the whole of the entertainment, there is no use denging that what was set before them in the form of edibles brought forth the most enthusiasm.

st enthusiasm. It was not noisy enthusiasm, but it got in a good deal of work. Each boy had a goodly share of bananas, oranges, cake and coffee. The oranges and bananas came from Senator Stanford. The boys many during the evening "Hold the Fort" and "Pull for the Shore." Dr. Shippen opened the eventhe evening "Hold the Fort" and "Pull for the Shore." Dr. Shippen opened the even-ing with a short prayer. Dr. Huntley made a short address. His remarks were of the kind that the boys could appreciate. Dr. Sanderland recited "The Story of Pete" and Mrs. Mills sang very sweetly. When the boys left the hall they sat up catcalls and yells demonlac. For tea min-nites you could hear them as they sapa-rated to all points of the compass. Among those who managed the entertainment.

nited to all points of the compass. Among those who managed the entertainment, were Mr. and Mrs. Darwin James, Mrs. Senator Teiler, Mrs. Bishop Androws, Mrs. William Mitchell, Mr. Stinemetz, Professor and Mrs. Greener, Mrs. W. G. Metzerott, Mrs. Dr. Crumwell, Dr. Sunderland, Dr. Shippen, Mrs. La Fetra, Mrs. Gregory and Dr. Barilett.

A number of ladies and gentlemen remained in the hail. Dr. Barilett read the report of Mrs. James, the president of the Newsboys' Aid Society. It stated that the main object of the society was to impress on the boys the importance of being self-supporting. Members of the society will receive contributions towards the proposed headquarters for the boys. These constitute a comfortable room supplied with newspapers, simple games, bathing facilities and a place into which to deposit savings.

General Edward E. Bryant of the Madison (Winconsin) Democrat has been tendered and has accepted the position of Assistant Attorney General for the Postoffice Department. He is on his way to this city to assume the duties of his office. General Vilas tendered him the place a week ago, Gen. Bryant is a stanneh Democrat and a personal frieud of the Postmaster-General. Up to four years ago the two were law partners. General Bryant is about 40 years old. He entered the Union army as a private in April, 1861, under the first call for Judge Freeman's Successor. old. He entered the Union army as a private in April, 1861, under the first call for troops. He served all through the war and rese to the rank of colonel. He will probably dispose of his interest in the Democrat. Judge Freeman, whom he succeeds, has been a very competent and popular official. He very favorably impressed the new Postmaster-General, but the latter desired to have as his legal adviser a man of the same political convictions as those held by the Administration.

New York, March 24.—The San says that Mr. Phelps is a lawyer of much reputation in Vermont, but not much known outside. No political reason is apparent for giving such an office to a citizen of Vermont, a State hopelessly Republican, and yet it cannot be said that Mr. Phelps is yet it cannot be said that Mr. Phelps is unequal to the public duties to which he is assigned.

The Sun speaks well but not warmly of Mr. McLean and Mr. Jackson, and is surprised that Mr. Pondleton abould have received less than a first-class position.

The World regrets that Mr. Thurman was not selected for a mission, but otherwise concedes that the appointments are creditable.

The Times rejoices over the appointments, especially that of Mr. Pondiston, which it supposes is a reward for his civil-service resupposes is a reward for his civil-service reform work.

The Herald speaks highly of the nominces, but seems to think it would be a good plan to adopt the European system of transferring instead of dismissing such able diplomatic representatives as Messrs. Morton and Morgan.

The Tribute says the appointments are excellent, and must suprise the Bourbons, who doubtless expected to see old hack politicians selected. Mr. Peudleton and Mr. Phelpa are especially praised by the Tribute. Mr. McLane, it says, "will do admirably." Mr. Jackson's experience should have fitted blus to represent us creditably. New Onleans, March 24.—The cele bration of "German day" at the Exposi-tion, and the 88th birthday of Emperor William, was a great success. Ton thou-William, was a great success. Ten thousand persons assembled in and about Music Hall in bonor of the occasion. The opening address was made by John Kruttzehmidt, the German Consul. Music by the Mexican Band, organ recitals and choruses completed the programme. Among the invited guests were Mexican and United States editers, and State and city officials. A dispatch was sent to Emperor William, at Berlin, as follows: "Assembled at the Exposition building, to celebrate Your Majesty's birthday, 10,000 Germans and German-Americans, who send their most cordial wishes."

A Fiendish Crime.

Lanedo, Tex., March 24.—In Nueva Laredo, Mexico, just across the river, a beinous crime was perpetrated yearerday. A Mexican had become jealous of his mistress, a Mexican girl about 18 years old. Going to her room be locked the door, sourcely tied her to the wall with heavy ropes and then deliberately proceeded to cut strips of flesh from various parts of her body, and, under a threat of cutting out her heart, he compelled the victim to eat her own flesh. Her frantic screams flually brought assistance, just as the inhuman brought assistance, just as the inhuman flend finished his work by cutting off the end of her tongue. He was arrested and locked up. His victim is dying.
